

TANNER J. BEAN

Attorney / Associate | Salt Lake City

Licensure: UT, ID

Biography

Tanner Bean is an attorney at Fabian VanCott focusing on employment, appellate, and litigation matters. He represents large and small employers alike, regularly advising on employment policies, handbooks, non-competes, severance agreements, and more. Tanner also represents employers in various employment litigation matters, including discrimination, wage and hour, and independent contractor litigation. Tanner has particular experience in the intersecting areas of religious freedom and LGBTQ discrimination found in and out of the workplace. Drawing from his background as a clerk for a judge on the Idaho Court of Appeals, Tanner also artfully drafts appellate briefs and argues novel issues of law across various practice areas before appellate courts in Utah, the Tenth Circuit, and the U.S. Supreme Court.

Tanner graduated with honors from Brigham Young University's J. Reuben Clark Law School, where he served as President of the Trial Advocacy Team, Symposium Editor of the BYU Law Review, and Research Fellow and Student Management Board Member of the International Center for Law and Religion Studies. Tanner also received his bachelor's degree from Brigham Young University in English. Tanner joined Fabian VanCott after completing a clerkship at the Idaho Court of Appeals for the Honorable Molly J. Huskey.

Currently, Tanner serves as Chair of Fabian VanCott's Employment & Labor Practice Group. He also serves as Vice Chair for the Labor & Employment Section of the Utah Bar, and is a member of the J. Reuben Clark Law Society's Religious Freedom Committee. Tanner frequently writes and presents on topics such as employment law, religious freedom, and LGBTQ nondiscrimination. Apart from his law practice, Tanner balances his affinity for the outdoors with his love of ice cream.

Tanner is licensed to practice in Utah and Idaho.
